1. Enclosed are some reasons why the Topographic Intelligence Studies were considered good.

2. I am not particularly happy about my copy but it may provide you with some basic data to use in connection with my previous paper on the history of the Geographic Sub-Division of the Europe-Africa Division.

3. I suppose the final answer is that the T.I. studies in themselves were not wonderful but they seemed to be in comparison with the poor material produced elsewhere. Basically all we did was to do a job when it was given to us.
